Our country stock holders, who have mortgaged their farms to the amount of millions, on which we have raised funds by the hardest and most laborious area, to give a start to those roads, would have been crushed, and in many instances bankrupted, by the payment of debts for which they would have received no value.—Our city would in like manner have been crushed and bankrupted by the payment of her boads issued to the several companies to sid their opertions, because upon the success of our system of roads depends the ability of the companies to pay those bonds; and any action on the part of pay those bonds; and any action on the part of smiled in an effort to command these grants, I should have felt safe, and should have been glad that they were made; but sad experience on too many occasions, had satisfied me that on all grest questions, affecting our interests, Milwankee was any very ant to be divided, while Chicago always and invariably presented one united front. I was afraid to risk the issue and the chances of success with the supineness and inactivity of our business men on the one hand, and the tendency to discord and mischiel on the part of certain ambitious persons on the other. It was a contest not to be courted, and therefore if dreaded to enter the arena, lost the result should be disastrous, and the responsibility of failure charged to my want of skill and management, by those whose proposities lead them to cavil and consure. united in an effort to command these grants, I should have felt safe, and should have been glad quired the most protapt and energetic action to meet, and for one I was not disposed to shirk or seithek from any effort or responsibility in my power to secure a favorable result. In this effort I only co-operated with the best minds in Milwakiec, among whom I am happy to commerate your senior editor, and the result was all that wo desired, and all that Milwaukee could hope for. It has secured to our city the undisputed control of all the business of Wisconsin, the inconsiderable amount which can be diverted to Chicago by the Fond du Lac read, being more than counterbalanced by business from Illinois by the Beloit road. And not only does it secure to us the business of our own State, but by means of connections recently secured with the several land grant roads in Minnesota, we are entirely safe in counting upon the great bulk of the commerce, to and from that beautiful and productive region, embracing a scope of country equal in extent to more than two States of the size of Wiscondin. And this, without the posibility of a successful tival, either north or south. Such are the consequences of securing to a company within our own State, true to the interests of our State and its commercial emperium, which will secure to it and to us in all future time a for that grant, and that it was only by the closest t was finally secuted to us. Perhaps it is not so well known to our citizens generally, what would class of the people of our State, had the result within our own state, true to the interests of our State and its commorcial emperium, which will secure to it and to us in all future time a commercial prosperity not equalled by any city west of the Lukes, not even by the proud and continue attinue (bigger) the business of Central, Western, and Northern Wisconsin and all Minnesots, beyond the power of competition by our citizens through the use of private means. This plan and result was very ably presented in a pampllet by Mr. Ogden, President of that Company, and would have been fully realized had not our Company interposed to prevent its consummation. This Western grant superadded to the Eastern grant which they did obtain, would have given them such premonderawest of the Lakes, not even of the product and aspiring city of Chicago.

But while we were in the heat of this contest, one of our citizens holding a high official position (I shame to say it) was exerting all his personal and official influence to defeat our efforts. He soon made his personal appearance in Madison, when he found that his letters were not likely to be sufficiently potent to produce the result, and yet he cannot be best in writing letters. The yet he cannot be best in willing featers. The person I aliade to is Mr. J. A. Noonan, late post-master, who, as I am credibly informed and have the best reason to believe, exerted his most strenuous efforts to prevent the great being made strenuous efforts to prevent the great being made. ting power that they could successfully have controlled the business of our State, to shoost the very threshold of our City, to wit: from Fond du Lac along a line through Watertown to Whifewater and from Fortage through Columbus to Whitewater, and thouce by Eikhorn &p., by the Wisconsin Central Line to Chicago, which would have left Milwaukee a narrow belt of country some forty miles East and West, by less than that distance North and South, on which to rely for her commercial support; which would not have been sufficient to preserve one present to the La Croses Company, well knowing that the only other disposition that could be made of

Not satisfied with the result, and determined if in his power to still defeat that disposal of the in his power to still defeat that disposal of the grant, he commoned a systematic attack upon the grant, be commoned a systematic attack upon the Company, endeavoring to show by round affect to the company, endeavoring to show by round affect to the they had obtained the grant through bribery and corruption of the members of the logislature; and in addition to this, also to bring to hear for his purposes a popular prejudice and the atrong political opposition of the K-publican party against Ex-Gov. Enistow, (whose shadow is a perfact nightmare to Noonan.) in the hope through defamation of the Company and political heart of the company and political popular favor which would induce the Logislature to repeal the grant at their zero the Logislature to repeal the grant at their zero in January last. In pursuance of this plant be drew up a memorial to the legislature setting forth that the La Crosse Company had in violation of the act of grant and very distance who had a sinister purpose in viow. Mr. Hart is a new comor in Milwardse, whom I never mot but, once and would not now be grant for the grant and that for an act of his flow the sought may be deferred to the first that the La Crosse Company, of which sit, Croix and Lake Superior Company, of which the formation of the act of grant and that for an act of his flow the course of Milwardse and her interest in the La sub-turplinde, the La thorse Company, of which the further was a sub-turplinde, the Lake Superior, to the grant and estimate the collect introduced in the collect introduc ed their own right to the grant, and colling on the legislature to repeal the grant, and resume to the State the right to again dispose of it as the Legislature night see it and I regret to see that con-State the right to again dispose one as the test that there might see fit, and I regret to say that some of our business men gave encouragement to this move by carelessly signing such petitions. Had anch a proposition been listened to and acted upon by the Legislature, there can be little doubt that the worst fears of the warmest friends of Milwaukee and of Wisconsin would have been fully realized. For it was unhesitatingly admitted that the LaCrosse Company was the only one in Wisconsin that had the least chance for that grant, and had it been taken from them, it would beyond a doubt have been given to the Chicago beyond a doubt have been given to the Chicago beyond a doubt have been given to the Chicago beyond a doubt have been given to the Chicago beyond a doubt have been given to the Chicago beyond a doubt have been given to the Chicago beyond a doubt have been given to the Chicago beyond a doubt have been given to the Chicago beyond a doubt have been given to the Chicago beyond a doubt have been given to the Chicago beyond a doubt have been given to the claims to be impas against both; and yet he claims to be impas against both; and yet he claims to be impas against both; and yet he claims to be impas against both; and yet he claims to be impas against both; and yet he claims to be impas against both; and yet he claims to be impas against both; and yet he claims to be impas against both; and yet he claims to be impas against both; and yet he claims to be impas against both; and yet he claims to be impassive to the friendship that would gloat over its proy; a friendship that a would gloat over its proy; a friendship that a constructing it, and then send to the city long ago.

But the La Crosse road!!! Such friendship that the proyect we have liture might see fit, and I regret to say that some of our business men gave encouragement to thi State, and another by Janesville, Madison, Por-tage City, &c., to Lake Superior, communding the West and North part of the State, that there would be nothing left to Milwaukee, and that in fact our city would declice to the estate of a third rate village. No person in the least de-gree acquainted with the difficulties and sacrif-ces to be met in building rail roads with private means, would for a moment entertain the idea of an attempt on our part to build competing roads against such odds with an expectation of obtain-show triendship, for the La Greeze road; peculiar to the astuce gentlemen who devised it. So far from this charge of bribery being true, I do not believe there was an instance, (certainly not within my knowledge,) of any member being of lead on a propriate a consideration. within my knowledge,) of any member being of fered or promised any pecuniary consideration, as an inducement to vote for the bill, and I do not believe that any member did vote for it, in consequence of any ends consideration, but that, on the contrary, they voted in accordance with their convictions as to what was the true interest of the State and if any members did subsequently receive my greatily from the command

It is far easier to do harm than good, and I think Mr. N. has a peculiar faculty and fondness portion of our citizens. In my own opinion, these grants were prompted by reasons of sound with a morbid destructiveness which impels him to construct acts of mischief which his organ of cautiousness will author him to perpetrate. I think he is afflicted with a morbid destructiveness which impels him to construct each of mischief which his organ of cautiousness will author him to perpetrate. I think he is afflicted with a morbid destructiveness which impels him to cautiousness will author him to perpetrate. I think cautiousness will suffer him to per put and to he he is entirely deficient in conscientionsness, and would go further than he does, were he not afraid of punishment. But as he is constituted, his institutes are to work secretly and in the dark, his institutes are to work secretly and in the dark.

Our correspondent, whose letters will be found below, gives highly interesting details of the last scenes in Rivas, and of the negotations between Capt. Davis and Walker, which finally led to the latter's surrender.

On the 7th of May, 101 guns announced to the people of San Jose, Costa Rica, the occupation of Rivas by the aller.

Gen. Mers, with his division of the army, was expected at San Jose on the 18th. Great preparations were being made to give him an entuciastic reception.

The Cranton gives all due credit to Captain Davis to: his humane interference to save the lives of Walker and followers, and also speaks in the highest credit of his noble conduct. Correspondence of the New York Times. Panama, Tuesday, May 19, 1857.

"Walker has plonty of food and supplies an is now in a better position than evec." This streetyped line of Walker's friends, and of the stereotyped line of Wulker's friends, and of the newspapers in his interest, is tone for ones. For to-day, he is comfortably cableed on the United States shop of war St. Marys, in the harbor of Panama, where he has as much as he can eat, the allies for his lift, and the life of his fellow-lollowers. This speculation has bee me fact. Walker, leaving been reduced to 250 men and officers on the 30th of April, surrendered with all his force on the 1st of May, to Commander Davis, by and with the consent of General Mora, Commender-inchief of the allies. He embarked the same day, with 16 of his officers, on board the St. Marys, selied on 5th, and on the 17th ar-rived in the port of Panama.

the St. Marys, saled to the control in the port of Panama.

You will recoilect that your last advices from Walker were up to the 10th April, in the shape of a rumor that he was confined to only two houses the 11 his tyres, and that he could hold out but with all his force, and that he could hold out but a few days longer. This was not fully cor-

On the 4th of April, Walker burned all the On the 4th of April, Walker burned all the buildings except those composing the heart of the city, which he could defend.
On the 11th of April, the allies attacked Walker's fortifications, and after great loss, fell back to their lines. They threw an immense number of buils into the city, and undertook to get possession of it by assault. Walker claims that they lest 500 killed and 10 prisoners, who fell into his hands, while his own loss was only two killed. The Granica de Gosta Rica speaks of this battle as an unfortunate one for the allies, and adds: "the loss was grave on both sides."

as an unfortunate one for the last of the last was grave on both sides."

From this time up to the 27th April, there does not appear to have been much fighting, but descretes were constantly going over to the allies. On the 27th, 70 of Walker's men, and 17 officers, on the first recomdeserted to the ailles, just as the firing recommenced upon the city. On the 28th, the firing against the city was continued. On the 29th it was augmented.

On the 50th, Commander Davis, of the United States sloop-of-war St. Marys, appeared in the al-lied compland commenced negotiations with Gen. Mora for the Eurocaler of Walker and the remnone of his force. At this time the force of Mora besieging the city amounted to over 2,500 men I have been favored with copies of the official papers of the negotations which resulted in the capitalation of Walker, and will give you the substance of them in regular order:

When Gen. Walker surrendered he had what he calculated as four days' provisions, viz: two bulls, two horses and three mules.
The fact that only 80 of Walker's men remained sick at Rivas at the capitulation, shows that at least 100 must have died within a few days, from neglect and starvation, as the number, when Walker commenced to eat dog and mule meat, amounted to 170. HOMES FOR ALL-We invite the particular attention of laboring men, mochanics and capitalists to Mr. John's act management of Palmer & Co's Addition, which will be four dl another column. To the former this of fore an excelle the opportunity to secure a homestead, however limited the remeans may be, and to the latter a fine field for inv sell of their money to good advantage, and for a good 31 79 see. The enormout rents which are required for at all comments in this city at the present time, enders it al: an impossible for laboring men and merenders it all all impossible for laboring men and mechanics, to support and educate their families in a proper manner, and connequeatly has the effect of keeping away thousands of good, herd-working and honost men, who would otherwise be glad to come and live here, and make this brauliful city their permanent home. It is true that wages are very high, and that there is a great demand for laborers, and mechanics of every grade, but notwithstanding this, where they have to pay such exeritant rents, there is no object in their coming here, fo they have to work harder to support their families here, than in places where they get much lower wages—that is those who have to pay rents—while they who are their own landlords are becoming independently rlob, and where any have made, and are making a judicious investment in real estate, with the great advance in property, they will realize a sang fortnee. The great difficulty which has prevented hundreds of men of small means m purchasing property in this city, is the large amou which are usually required to be paid down.

Mesers, Paimer & Co., have adopted an entirely ner plan, one which places it within the power of every labor ing man to secure one lot at least. ... A correspondent of the Wisconsin; in speaking of the system of payments, gives the following sketch of the me isystem of payments, gives the foliogring sketchod the modele operand it:

As the system of Falmor & Go., is somewhat novel, I cannot forbear bailing atten ion to it. They have nut a price upon their lats, varying from $200 to $800 for which they require payment on the foliowing forms, to deliars in advance, and three dollars per month thereafter until baid, without interest. These terms have at least the charm of novely; and are, as savorable as-one reading advantage of them by purchasing lots, and overy one who has the means to spare, and desires a home and camption from rents, will find it is his interest to do the same fall; the great wants more develings to sell or rent, on such termoas will met the wants of thousands who are seaking homes among us.

It is to the interest of capitalists and property owners to induce all the laboring men and mechanics who can find employment to settle here, and there is not a doubt but that we need more—many more than are here at that we need more—many more than are here at ERNJ. BAGNALL, MELVILLE S. NICHOLS ANTHONY G. VAR BORAIOK. present could find employment, and got good wages, but the rents, the extravagantly high rents which are paid for small dwellings, justly deters them. If monied men, instead of putting up costly pateces, would exect sang-dwellings suitable for mechanics and others, whose inoracs will not allow them to pay the rents which arono casted for such; hundreds would flook to our city from castern places, and thus subance the value of property, and hilp the growth and property of our city. The lots which Messre. Palmer & Co., offer for sale are heautifully situated, in one of the most healthy portions of the city commanding a fine view of the harbor and lake.
